

Digital Paradox: Piracy, Ownership, and the Constraints of African Screen Media

Indiana University, Bloomington

Venue: Black Film Center/Archive, Wells Library

Friday, October 18, 2013

Thursday, October 17, 2013

Film Screening: Maami (dir. Tunde Kelani 2011)

Venue: IU Cinema

Time: 7:00pm (followed by Q&A)

Friday, October 18, 2013

9:00am: Introduction & Opening Remarks:

Ruth Stone; Samuel Obeng; David Hertz; Eileen Julien

Morning Session: 9:30am - Noon

Interventions I: Mahen Bonetti

Interventions II: Jean-Marie Teno

Response: Moradewun Adejunmobi

Noon - 2:00pm: Lunch Break

Afternoon Session: 2:00 - 4:00pm

Conversation: Jonathan Haynes with Tunde Kelani

4:00-4:30pm: Break

4:30pm Screening: Leaf in the Wind (dir. Jean-Marie Teno, 2013). Followed by discussion with the filmmaker.

We gratefully acknowledge the support of the African Studies Program; the Provost's Office; the Mellon Innovating International Research, Teaching grant; the Office of the Vice President for International Affairs; the Departments of Comparative Literature, Anthropology; the Cultural Studies Program; the Project on African Expressive Traditions; and Horizons of Knowledge.

Coordinators: Akin Adesokan, Beth Buggenhagen, Marion Frank-Wilson, Maria Grosz-Ngaté, Marissa Moorman.

Special thanks to Melinda Bristow and Marilyn Estep.